Discover Common Dysfunctions of Teams

A: 9.00am – 12noon

This course highlights common team dysfunctions.

It's a very practical course and it uses proven models to help reflect on the existing strengths and weakness of your team. Why not send the whole team and plan for the future. Participants will then be challenged to find ways to build a fully functional team

KEY LEARNING OUTCOMES — PARTICIPANTS WILL BE ABLE TO:

- Discuss what constitutes a high performing team
- Identify common team dysfunctions
- Explain ways to motivate teams
- Link team objective with company objectives
- Discuss the differences between effective teams and efficient teams
- Discuss the role of team synergy
- Agree action plans to make teams more effective

Values-Based Leadership

B: 1.00pm – 4.00pm

Permeate (rather than laminate) Your Values through Your Organisation

You might know some organisations that laminate their values on the office walls. Then they rest on their laurels thinking that the values have been embedded. The reality is that they've been laminated rather than embedded.

Fortunately most organisations have identified their values. But have your values permeated through the organisation? Would you like to lead with your values? This values based leadership course was designed by an organisational psychologist to promote the seamless flow of your values through your organisation.

KEY LEARNING OUTCOMES — PARTICIPANTS WILL BE ABLE TO:

- Discuss your current values
- Analyse the stickiness of your values
- Scan the environment to identify mismatches between behaviours and values
- Discuss your organisational readiness and maturity to embed your values
- Associate personal values and organisational values
- Embed values into workplace expectations and behaviours
