

Territory Management

ARE YOUR TEAMS MAXIMISING THE OPPORTUNITIES IN THEIR TERRITORIES OR ARE THEY JUST VISITING YOUR CUSTOMERS TO GET REPEAT ORDERS?

This training program focuses upon providing sales professionals with the strategies to manage their time, territory and improve relationships with profitable customers.

How does your team rate?

Ask yourself the following:

1. Our team knows who their most profitable customers are.
2. Our level of service is segmented to deliver best service to our most profitable customers.
3. Customer satisfaction levels are measured regularly.
4. Any interpersonal disputes are resolved openly and fairly.
5. Our team regularly brings up new innovative ideas.
6. Our team manages their time effectively.
7. Our team has been professionally trained to negotiate better outcomes.
8. Our team communicates well and has high levels of trust.
9. Our team actively listens to customers and use questioning skills.
10. Poor performance is dealt with quickly and objectively.
11. Our team also has behavioural targets.
12. Our team does not go out to a customer ill prepared and wasting travel time.
13. Waiting for customers is not part of our job description as "waiting time" can be productive time.
14. Territories are not always segmented geographically.
15. We have developed a service recovery policy that sales teams will implement if the customer perceives a service failure.
16. We don't over-promise and under-deliver.

YOUR SCORE?

Good negotiators generally score "YES" to 12 of these questions.

If you scored less, you should think about learning how to improve your territory skills.
